Why This Course

The MSc in Finance and Management (Top-up) degree, awarded by the University of Lancashire, is designed to provide students with advanced knowledge and skills in financial management. This degree is suitable for those who have completed a relevant postgraduate diploma, and are looking to further their studies and enhance their career prospects in the finance industry.

The Master's in Finance and Management is a 9-month top-Up programme, consisting of the dissertation module only. Students are required to undertake independent research and produce a dissertation that demonstrates their ability to apply advanced research techniques to a finance-related topic. The dissertation module carries 60 credits and is designed to enable students to demonstrate their knowledge, understanding and research skills in financial management.

Throughout the programme, students will be supported by experienced academics and industry professionals, who will provide guidance and feedback on their research project. The programme is delivered through a combination of online webinars, and independent study, allowing students to fit their studies around their work and personal commitments.

— INSIDE THE PROGRAMME

Your Learning Journey

1 What You Will Achieve

Upon completing the degree, graduates will have the skills and knowledge required to pursue a range of career opportunities in finance, including roles in:

- Financial analysis
- Investment banking
- Risk management
- Corporate finance
- Financial planning

The programme also provides a solid foundation for those interested in pursuing further study or research in finance.

Note: This content reflects the full MSc Finance and Management programme outcomes. As an LIBT graduate entering at the dissertation stage, you will have already covered the taught elements through your Qualifi Level 7 Diploma.

2 How You Will Learn

The University of Lancashire's distance learning courses are designed to provide students with the same high-quality education as on-campus courses.

You will have access to:

- video lectures, online discussion forums, and interactive assessments
- academic support, technical support, and the university's library and online resources
- online webinars combining live and recorded sessions with experienced academics and industry professionals
- independent study structured around your work and personal commitments

The programme allows you to study at your own pace and on your own schedule, while receiving the same level of support and education as on-campus students.

3 How You Will Be Assessed

Assessment consists entirely of the dissertation module. There are no written examinations. Students are required to undertake independent research and produce a dissertation that demonstrates their ability to apply advanced research techniques to a finance-related topic.

Throughout the programme, students will be supported by experienced academics and industry professionals, who will provide guidance and feedback on their research project.
